

Nicholas Brodyn, DO, FACC, FCCP, FACP, FSCCT
Invasive and Non-invasive Cardiology

Education and Training

- Board-certified in Internal Medicine, Adult Cardiovascular Diseases and Nuclear Cardiology
- Cardiology Fellowship, Saint Michael's Medical Center, Seton Hall University, Newark, NJ
- Residency in Internal Medicine, Saint Michael's Medical Center, Seton Hall University, Newark, NJ
- Medical Degree, Kansas City University of Medicine and Biosciences, Kansas City, MO

Dr. Nicholas Brodyn provides clinical, invasive and non-invasive cardiology services including electrocardiography, Holter monitoring, stress tests, Transesophageal echocardiography (TEE) and nuclear cardiac scanning at Wayne Memorial Hospital. He has special interests in TEE, heart failure and ischemic and valvular heart diseases

Dr. Brodyn has over 30 years' experience as a Cardiologist. After spending over 20 years in private practice in New Jersey, he served as the Director of Cardiology for the Adirondack Health System in New York State. Prior to joining Honesdale Cardiology in 2019, he was affiliated with New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation, where he held the position of Chief, Division of Cardiology at Coney Island Hospital. Dr. Brodyn also serves as an Associate Clinical Professor of Medicine at Seton Hall University School of Graduate Medical Education and an Associate Clinical Professor of Cardiology, at Touro Medical College.