

Jennifer Arnold, MHS, PA-C, Physician Assistant

Education and Training

- Master of Health Science, Drexel University, Philadelphia, PA
- Bachelor of Science in Physician Assistant studies, Hahnemann University, Philadelphia, PA
- Bachelor of Science in Biology, Arcadia University, Glenside, PA

Jennifer has been a physician assistant since 1997 with an emphasis in the field of cardiothoracic surgery since 2002. Under the supervision of a cardiologist holding board-certification in General and Interventional Cardiology, she conducts inpatient consults, administers stress tests and holds outpatient office hours for patient evaluation and follow up.

Jennifer has taken an active role in educating others within her field of expertise through her association with the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants (NCCPA) Prior to joining Honesdale Cardiology in 2017 she spent much of her career in the Philadelphia area.