

Kate Scully, CNM, MPH, Certified Nurse Midwife

Education and Training

- Master of Science degree in nursing/nurse-midwifery, Yale University, New Haven, CT
- Board Certified Women's Health Practitioner
- Master of Public Health Degree, Emory University, Rollins School of Public Health, Atlanta, GA
- Bachelor of Arts degree in English, St. Mary's University, San Antonio, TX
- Served in the U.S. Peace Corps stationed in East Africa

As a certified nurse midwife, Kate provides prenatal and intrapartum care to expectant mothers and facilitates births (including water births) at the New Beginnings Birthing Suites of Wayne Memorial Hospital in Honesdale. Kate also offers postpartum care and sees gynecology patients for exams, family planning needs and a number of gynecological issues. Kate joined Wayne Memorial Community Health Centers in 2019.